“Theme for 2026: Commitment”

Imagine a man who loves to talk about generosity. He tells everyone how willing he is to help, how much he believes in giving. One day, a real need arises. He pulls out his checkbook, signs his name at the bottom, and hands the check to the person in need—but he leaves the amount blank.

He says, “You can fill in whatever you think is fair.”

Most of us would recognize that as strange. A signed check with no amount isn’t really a gift, it’s unfinished. The commitment hasn’t truly been made.

In many ways, that’s how some approach Christianity. They sign their name to Christ in baptism. They claim His name. But when it comes to obedience, sacrifice, time, priorities, or faithfulness, they leave the amount blank.

True Christian commitment is not merely signing the check—it is trusting Christ enough to let Him fill in the amount!
